A beautiful hand-painted pillow, donated by Mrs. Fair, of Danahill, was raffled, and won by Mrs. Chas. Kinnmont. The local orchestra supplied the music for the dance. The W. HEARTY SENDOFF TO MR. & MRS. D. FRENCH

A large number of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas French were at the depot Wednesday to bid them good speed, and assure them of a very warm welcome on their return to Strathmore.

The Legion also was well represented to assure Company President of their high regard, and trust under the hospital care he may soon regain his lost strength.

Mr. and Mrs. French have both been very valuable members and workers of St. Michael & All Angels' Church, as well as the above mentioned groups, and during the absence will be very much missed. Mayor Shrimpton called for three cheering cheers just as the train pulled into the depot.

BOY TRAVELS 16,000 MILES FROM INDIA

SASKATON — Richard Herbert Campbell Angelo is only 13 years old, but he will have travelled more than 16,000 miles during the last six weeks when he arrived at his destination, Saskatchewan.

Richard is the son of the manager of an Indian estate at Ganwan, on the plains of India. He has always lived in the hills in summer and returned to the plains in winter, and during that time has attended boarding schools. But his father decided that he preferred a Canadian education for his son, and so arranged for him to come to Canada, to live with Mrs. N. Gibson, of Saskatoon.

The youngster has never seen Mrs. Gibson, but she is a close friend of his aunt, and he is to remain with her indefinitely. Leaving Calcutta travelled six weeks ago the young lad travelled by way of Port Said and England to Canada, covering more than 16,000 miles on his journey. He arrived in Winnipeg yesterday morning over C.N.R. lines, and spent the night in the city. Canada is not very different from the hill country of India, Richard stated. He has seen snow before, but has never played at any winter sports. He is looking forward to learning to skate and snowshoe, and his particular ambition is to learn some day to ski. He is full of enthusiasm about his new life, and believes that he will never return to India.

SPORT NOTES

AMERICAN HORSE WILL RACE IN ENGLAND

NEW YORK—Bearing American colors as the first foreign invader on 1928, Billy Barton, a thoroughbred jumper from the stable of Howard Bruce, seven-year-old Baltimore sportsman, called on the inner Minniewassa, to be placed in training for the classic Grand National steeplechase, to be run in Liverpool in March.

Not only is the seven-year-old jumper the first of the 1928 invaders to leave for foreign soil, but he is the first American bred horse in memory to be entered in what is accepted to be the hardest test and the biggest classic of the turf.

The American party making the trip with the colt, headed by Albert Ober, a well known gentleman rider, who will have the mount, will be greeted in England with "Two to one he won't finish," but it will in no way reflect upon the estimate of the American entry's chance in the classic.

Bookmakers in England always will offer two to one that any horse in the field, including the favorite, will not finish, as it is a wide open race in which every entry has a chance, and in which luck is a most important factor.

Very few American breeders are willing to risk their great thoroughbreds in the burden that the flat and jumping races impose in England.

Although Payrus and Epitaur, two Derby winners, were sent from France and England to race in this country, efforts of foreign sportsmen to have such famous American horses as Max O'War, Morvich, Ev Grey Lag and others enter the foreign classic failed.

Under these circumstances, the trip of the Baltimore colt has been sponsored as a sort of civic enterprise and a number of prominent Baltimore people are making arrangements to witness the race.

American interest in the "Grand National" has been increased in recent years by the entry of the aged Sergeant Murphy, owned by the American horseman, Stephen Sanford, Jr., who won the event in 1922 as a three-year-old under 117 pounds.

Although Billy Barton is seven years old and has been out of active racing since 1923, when he finished last in a race at Finsbury, his age or his record will not be held against him.

Certainly objections to his age will not hold, although the announcement that he was to be started caused some lambasting of the record books and a remark—"how old is that bird?"

In the Grand National campaign, the records show that a jumper does not get going until the age of eight or nine. Sergeant Murphy was a doddering old man, along flat racing appraisement, when he entered in 1923 as a thirteen-year-old and won the race.

The figures show that in the last eight years the youngest winner was seven years old. A sixteen-year-old in 1915, and a five-year-old in 1909. These comparative youngsters, however, were exceptions and the winners averaged between nine and eleven years of age.

The "Grand National" test is perhaps the hardest that can be put to an animal or a human. The distances of nine miles and 856 yards over natural rolling country and consists of thirteen hazardous jumps.

The test is so severe that in one recent year only one entry was able to finish. Last year fourteen were able to finish, four almost finished, and twelve fell and failed to finish.

Ford The NEW CAR

ALL THAT engineers have learned, all that millions of owners have experienced in nearly a quarter of a century, have made possible this car which is today as far ahead of its time as was the famous Model T in 1908.

Sixteen million automobiles, serving their owners in jungle and desert, on mountain and plain, on boulevard and highway, have made possible this car which is today as far ahead of its time as was the famous Model T in 1908.

Its advent marks a new epoch in automotive engineering in point of inbuilt quality—niceties of mechanical design, lavish use of the finer metals, precision in delicate machining processes.

Nowhere in its construction has there been slightest of either major essentials or minor details. From its outermost hub-cap to its innermost bearing, the new Ford car epitomizes engineering skill to a degree unexcelled in the annals of motor car manufacture.

This entirely new car surpasses the accepted standards of light car accomplishment sweeps aside all boundaries of price class establishes a new standard of acceleration, speed, power and smoothness that heretofore has marked only expensive cars as fine cars.

Yet Ford precision in large scale production, unparalleled in the history of automotive manufacture, places this car within the reach of every purse.

An advance showing of the New Ford Car will be made Friday, December 2nd, in the following cities:

HALIFAX	VICTORIA	WINDSOR
SAINT JOHN	PETERBORO	WINNIPEG
QUEBEC	SHERBROOKE	REGINA
MONTREAL	BRANTFORD	SASKATOON
OTTAWA	MOOSEJAW	CALGARY
TORONTO	KITCHENER	EDMONTON
HAMILTON	FORT WILLIAM	VANCOUVER
LONDON

As rapidly as increasing production permits these public showings will be extended until all of the 736 Ford dealer points have been covered. If you live in one of the cities listed above, visit the exhibit of this New Car. At other points, see your local dealer next Friday. He will give you complete specifications, prices and an excellent conception of its unusual features.

BIG GRAIN COMPANY MERGER IS PROJECTED

WINNIPEG—A projected amalgamation of private grain trade on the prairies is contemplated, on anything like the scale currently being attempted, it may prove the dominating factor in the Canadian industry. One hundred million dollars is declared to be the approximate value of the various companies physical assets on the prairies and at the terminals.

For two months the plan has been quietly developing. It is being promoted by Eastern investors, according to unofficial reports and is economic in purpose. The elimination of multitudinous now represented by the multiplicity of administration of the numerous competing organizations is the object that appeals to many who have been consulted. If the plan outlined by casual reports goes through, it means a straight shot to the merger will follow. Payment contemplated is not in stock but cash. A stock issue may follow.

Would Include Majority
The tentative plan contemplates at least 2,500 country elevators being under the amalgamation management. This is more than one half the number of rural elevators on the prairies. Approximately there are 4,000 elevators located at rural points in the three prairie provinces. Of these the Consolidated Pool owns or controls 850. Some of the big line companies have as many as 250 and the smaller ones 25 to 50.

In fact, the proposed merger is one of the answers to economy introduced by the pool's activity in acquiring storage elevator facilities and in recent points. The consolidated interests are annually setting aside from earnings a fund to buy or acquire more elevators. At present this fund amounts to some $1,000,000. Most of the pool elevators were acquired in the absorption of the Saskatchewan Cooperative Elevator Company interests.

But it is now economic to haul grain from the farm further than fourteen miles. There are many places on the prairies where grain must be hauled twice that distance to reach an elevator. Farmers isolated in this way must resort to railroad sidings to get their grain into cars. This is a very expensive process as it means to be loaded by hand. This process also ties up much rolling stock for the railroads.

Increase Facilities
It is expected that if the amalgamation of a large percentage of the private grain companies is effected, that they will increase their facilities for giving the grain growers service all over the prairies. For instance, in the Peace River country, this year, 20,000,000 bushels of wheat and as much more in barley, oats and rye have been harvested. There are very few elevators in that vast territory to handle this production. It must be largely loaded from wagons by hand. Hauling from 15 to 20 miles, this means from five to seven days must elapse from the time a car is "spotted" at a loading platform before it is ready for moving.

To get the Peace River crop to terminals means, by this slow method, the hauling of a hundred thousand tons of cars for almost an indefinite period. This is an economic problem the transportation companies cannot meet. The country elevator will change all of this. The time of moving a car on the prairies to tide water at Vancouver or the lake head, averages seven days. The trains move at express speed. Doubling the country elevator capacity means doubling the efficiency of the railroads in getting the crop to the terminals.

Traffic Growing
In this, the amalgamation is expected to employ increased capital on an average basis to serve the grain producers of the Northwest. This year's production represents on the prairie a total of nearly 1,000,000,000 bushels of wheat, oats, rye, barley and flax. This is a tremendous volume of traffic for the railroads. It cannot all be handled by car sidings, and it is through elevators by operating trains of 75 freight cars night and day about 30 minutes apart during three or four months.

Then too, the big terminal elevator of the private interests at the lake head, Vancouver and the Bay, port—must have grain to pay dividends. The pool has its own terminals at all these points. Under the new law the country elevator—the primary receiving point—will have less to say about the grain received than under previous regulations, but ownership in a primary elevator at rural points is the first big factor in the merchandising of grain.

USES FOR CORN MAY BE DOUBLED

NEW YORK—Corn, now regarded as one of the world's greatest crops, is still capable of yielding 100 per cent more in valuable products, and may, if properly developed, solve the financial problems of the farmer, according to Dr. O. R. Sweeney, of Iowa State College, in a statement given out at the Exposition of Chemical Industries at the Grand Central Palace, Dr. Sweeney and his assistants have been experimenting for seven years on the corn plant and so far have found uses for many products that are valuable in industry, but which are now going to waste.

Dr. Sweeney exhibited some of these products at the exposition. They include new forms of food-stuffs, building blocks, artificial hair, "mop" strips, insulation board and various preservative chemicals. "Corn is the world's greatest crop," said Dr. Sweeney, "but now it is only partly used. The value of the crop is about $2,000,000,000 a year. The stalks are now largely waste material. Some of them are used for fodder and are cut up and saved in silos for stock feeding, but the total amount used in every way can hardly be more than 5 per cent of the total production in the United States of 200,000,000 tons a year. At $5 a ton, which I think would be a conservative price to the farmer, once the industrial possibilities of the stalks were being realized, another $1,000,000,000 a year would be put in the pockets of the corn growers."

A factory for experimental purposes has been set up at Ames, Iowa, where Dr. Sweeney and his aides have produced the products already enumerated besides artificial silk and paper.

He exhibited a slab of board designed for use as an insulator in building construction and asserted

REMARKABLE PATROLS BY MOUNTED POLICE

The St. Leonie which recently returned from the annual Government patrol of the eastern Arctic brought with her a number of members of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police who had completed a two-year tour of duty at the various detachments in that region. She also brought the report of the winter's work done in that part of the Canadian Arctic archipelago. These islands were traversed by numerous patrols, and some remarkable journeys were made. In general, regions which the ordinary reader regards as the goal of carefully organized exploring parties, are regularly visited by the Mounted Police in the way of ordinary duty. Three of the journeys undertaken of special interest.

Staff-Sergeant Joy, the non-commissioned officer in charge of the northernmost detachment— that at Rache Peninsula, on the eastern shore of Ellesmere Island, approximately eleven degrees from the Pole—made a remarkable patrol to King Christian Sound, in the course of which he visited the islands of Axel Heiberg, Amund Ringnes, Eklund, Hughes, Cornwall, and Graham. This group of islands lies west of Ellesmere Island. Access to them by water is exceedingly difficult, but Staff-Sergeant Joy, making Rache Peninsula his base, and working westward across Ellesmere Island to Bay Foul, traversed the region accompanied for the greater part of the journey by two Eskimos. He left the detachment on March 26, 1927, and returned on May 18 having travelled 1,220 miles in 54 days; the mode of travel was of course by dog sleds. The usual interruptions by blizzards were experienced, and during the last few days the explorers, who were passing over mountainous country, were hampered by fog and deep soft snow.

Two points about this very long patrol were the quantities of game met with and a discovery of coal. Over 250 muskox were seen on the route, and the indications are that they are plentiful elsewhere; the caribou also seem to be becoming more numerous, and other species of game were observed. On Bay Foul Staff-Sergeant Joy noticed a seam of shale-coal forty or more feet thick above the ice-foot.

It could be sold at retail at $40 a thousand square feet, or compared to the cheapest grade of lath, which costs $45. Besides its economy, he said, the coralline bark is more than four times as good as plaster as wood, thus insuring warmth in winter and coolness in summer.

Any degree of hardiness can be obtained, he said, by grinding the stalks to "fines" flour, beating the resulting mass until it is the consistency of jelly and allowing it to dry in sunlight. Furniture made from this lumber, he said, has a smooth surface and will not warp.

SEES PASSING OF SPLENDID CUSTOM

WINNIPEG, Man.—Prof. Simons, of Victoria College, Toronto, writes in the Free Press about the Doukhobors: "What is to happen to the villages? Thus they named the grouped apartments consisting of two large square buildings, one on each side of a lower connecting building, surrounded by orchard and flowers and vegetable gardens. In each live members of the large family in the ancient clan fashion. When a young man marries he brings his wife to his father's home, and in primitive fashion the great house gives shelter to blood relatives and such other as they may choose to live with. And the women divide the work of house-keeping, so that for a week a woman will do house-work, and for the next two or three weeks will work in the fields, preferring usually the latter occupation to the former. Their houses have their people are scrupulously clean, with floors neatly painted and tiled, spotless.

"These houses of rest, set in flowers, what will become of them? Should not the community break up—and most observers do not give it more than five years to live—the transition from community to individual effort will mean the wrecking of much that is now lovely to see. For if Canada has something to teach the Doukhobors, they have also something to teach Canada."

MEMBERS FORCED TO TAKE TROUSERS OFF

NEW YORK.—Twenty middle-aged and dignified members of the Circolo Terza Italia, an Italian social club in Newark, were forced to part with their trousers in their clubhouse at 279 South Sixth Street early this morning while five hoodlum men, phobically devoid of shame, made away with $500 of their money.

The club members were amusing themselves with cards and other games when the five men broke into the club just after midnight. One of them carried a sawed off shot gun. The club members were herded into a back room, while four of the robbers, under cover of the leader's weapon, took their cash and jewellery.

ROSEBUD

Mrs. J. Sangster and children were visitors to Calgary first of last week. Since returning Muriel has been quite ill with a severe cold.

On Wednesday evening Mrs. G. N. De Foe was hostess to the Ladies Bridge Club, four tables playing. First honors, a china cake plate with silver handle, going to Miss Opal Jones. The consolation prize, a set of table markers, was won by Mrs. H. Jones. After refreshments were served, a short business session followed. It was decided to south have Tuesday as the regular club night.

Mrs. L. Mace was a visitor to Red and last Tuesday.

We are sorry to report that Ralph Scamers has been home from school suffering from stomach flu.

The dance held in the hall Friday evening under the auspices of the Women's Catholic League, was most successful. A good time and a good crowd was reported. Children supper was served at midnight, and the drawing for the cake, blanket, and embroidered apron took place at this time. The lucky winner of the cake was Mr. J. Roach, while Mr. J. Debrinski secured the blanket, the second going to Mrs. W. J. Cleary.

Mr. Edd Nicklason was a business visitor to Calgary last week.

Mr. Walter Hyman was a passenger to Calgary Saturday evening.

Mr. Gordon Eberhardt left Saturday evening en route to Calgary and points west. He expects to be gone all winter.

"Now, then," the band leader commanded; "take off your pants."

The club members waited that it was a very chilly night, but the band leader was adamant. One by one twenty pairs of trousers were removed and thrown into a heap in the middle of the floor.

Then the leader poled his gun into the tangled heap and stirred it. One of his men tied several of the trousers together, and another added to the mix up by kicking them. The bandists backed to the door.

"It's pretty chilly out," the solicitor rubber reminded his victims. "Don't catch cold."

When the police arrived the thieves had disappeared, leaving no trace, and the twenty angry, embarrassed club members were still trying to sort out their pants.

ROCKYFORD

The Rockyford Meat Market are paying Calgary prices for Turkey, geese and ducks. This will save the farmers express and shrinkage, 10 to 12 cents.

The Rockyford Ladies Club met at the home of Mrs. H. D. Hewson, with Mrs. J. Black acting with Mrs. Hewson as hostess. "Interior Decoration" was the subject of an address given by Mrs. Castejon. The subject was well handled, and was both interesting and instructive. The ladies have placed a box in the drug store where donations of used clothing and toys will be gladly received for the Sun-shine Club.

On Monday night Fr. Rouleau delivered a sermon on the sacrament of "Penance", dwelling on the necessity of sacramental confession, particularly at this season in preparation for the feast of Christmas.

Tuesday night the Forty Hours closed with a sermon by Rev. Fr. Coleman, of Drumheller, on "Perseverance".

Fr. Ritter, of Wayne, attended the services on Monday night.

Fr. Rouleau, who was visiting Fr. Killen at St. Rita's Rectory, returned to Calgary Wednesday night.

The Forty Hours devotion was held this week at St. Rita's Church. The services were in charge of Fr. P. Rouleau, pastor of St. Ann's Church, Calgary. On Sunday evening Father Rouleau preached a forceful and impressive sermon on devotion to the Blessed Sacrament. In eloquent terms the Rev. speaker dwelt on the Blessed Sacrament as the centre of devotion in the Catholic Church, and urged the congregation to a greater love and devotion to our Divine Lord.

Miss Clara Holmes, of Rockyford, was united in marriage to Mr. Leonard Smith, of Canina, Alta., on Friday, November 25th, at Calgary. Rev. Dickson officiating. Only the immediate relatives were present. The best wishes of the community are extended to the happy couple.

Don't forget the date, December 6th, in Rockyford Hall, United Church bazaar and concert.

The dance held last Friday evening under the auspices of the Red Cross was well attended, considering the inclement weather.

Have you voted for your favorite to be Queen of the Carnival. If not, set your ticket before it is too late.

Mr. C. R. Walrod was a business visitor to Edmonton last week.

Owing to the illness of Sir Herbert Ames, he was unable to be present at the Canadian Club luncheon last Saturday. Mr. Hugh Farthing, of Calgary, very ably took his place as speaker for the evening.

Mr. R. Matheson, of Sweet Grass, Montana, is visiting his sister, Mrs. Carpenter, of Rockyford.

AUSTRO-GERMAN UNION EXPECTED IN NEW ENTENTE

NEW YORK.—A union between Austria and Germany and an Anglo-French-German alliance are envisaged by Count Ottokar Czernin, formerly Minister of Foreign Affairs for Austria, who has just arrived here. "Europe is experiencing a very interesting development which manifests itself in a complete change of the roles which the great powers play on the Continent," he said.

"Affairs in Austria are of small importance, the only point of interest being Austria's probable union with Germany, which, in my opinion, is bound to take place sooner or later. Germany is fast recovering from the war and her influence in politics is increasing daily. Her trade and industry are beginning to flourish."

"The German nation does not want another war, and President von Hindenburg has won the confidence of the whole of Europe. He is the best guarantee for a peaceful development of Germany, and knowledge of this in Paris, London and Berlin helps to increase Germany's influence in world politics."

ULTRA-MODERN MARRIAGE OF ACTRESS AND AUTHOR

NEW YORK.—An ultra modern secret marriage between Hendrik Willem Van Loon, author, and Frances Goodrich, actress, is described in this New York American.

Van Loon, author of the "Story of Mankind," besides other philosophical works and essays, said he does not remember the date on which he and Miss Goodrich, who attained stardom in "Come Out of the Kitchen" a few years ago, were married by Rabbi Lewis Browne. He said he did not remember the day when the ceremony took place although it was identified as Miss Goodrich's native town in New Jersey. The author indicated their union, in deference to conventions, followed a three-year courtship, in which he and his wife made the terms of their unwritten marriage bond.

Among the stipulations are: Neither assumes the slightest obligation, either as regards permanence of affection, time or society to the other. Each maintains a separate establishment—Van Loon in Greenwich village, and Miss Goodrich in the Midtown district near the theatre.

Each may work out a career without hindrance, help or advice from the other. As there is no sharing of the home, there is likewise no sharing of money or property.

Such association may be between them can only be through mutual agreement.

"It is an experiment," Van Loon is quoted by the American as saying: "It works out this way well and good. If it doesn't, well—we'll try it some other way."

Van Loon, a native of Holland and a Cornell graduate, has been married twice before; first to the former Eliza Bowditch, of Boston, and later to the former Helen Griewolm. His present wife has been married once previously, to Robert Ames, actor, from whom she was divorced in 1922.

NEW STARTING SYSTEM

TIJUANA.—A new system of starting will be tried in the future parking races. A suitable arrangement, accommodating 15 horses, will be placed at the head of the three-quarter straightway track. Horses will enter these stalls from the rear and face the tape stretched along the front. It is believed the stalls will make it possible for an immediate getaway, since they prevent bumping and rearing at the post.

WHY NOT A TRUST COMPANY?

Recent news dispatches from the city where the Taunamy is famous convey information of the death of a son of one of the founders of that notable institution, friendless, penniless, alone in Bellevue Hospital. Bequeathed the quarter of a million dollars in cash only a few years ago, after he had been provided with a good education, this scion of a man of outstanding organizing ability had lost everything, life included, in being a "good fellow".

One of the leading editorialists south of the international boundary epitomizes the case with: "To leave your son money, without having taught him how to use it, is to make misery your executor." Canadian Financier, October 5th, 1927.

Jim Swanson: "Yes; it's the same way when he knocks his head against a lamp-post."

John Vermaat: "Suppose a man should call you a fool, what would you do?"
Tony Grogan (hesitatingly): "What else man?"

Bill Tierney was reading where a scientific writer says: "An aeroplane travelling at the rate of two hundred miles an hour, flying night and day, would reach the sun in fifty-two years."

Bill thinks if you have not planned your vacation trip for next summer, here is one worth consideration.

He wrote to the editor: "How can I keep postage stamps from sticking together?"

The editor's reply: "Buy 'em one at a time from Postmaster J. H. Martin."

Jim Weir says the meanest Scot-man in the world is the one who pur-posesly walks on his girl's feet while he is dancing with her, in order to keep his rival from having the next dance.

years ago we were both eighteen. Now you are twentythree and I'm thirty-two.

Harold Smith, who has been in the hotel business for some time, relates a story about one where he was employed:

"The hotel was afire and one of the frightened guests had been taken out until it was thought that no one remained, when suddenly there appeared at an upper window a young lady with bobbed hair and bare shoulders—or at least they appeared bare from the ground five stories below.

"Escape seemed to be out of her. Tongues of flame licked out of every window, and the stairs within were roaring furnaces.

"Jump into the fire!" yelled a fireman.

"Wait! I'm not dressed, I was taking a bath. Just a minute till I get my clothes."

"Hurry! Hurry! There's no time to lose. Jump into something at once. So she did. She jumped into the act.

"How long is it to, big boy?"
"What has ya' did?"
"Done shot my wife."
"Killed 'er' wife an' only got two weeks?"
"That's all—then I gets hang."

They were quarrelling, and the wife said to her husband:

"You were bright and sweet enough in summer at the seaside! I'd like to know how many girls you've loved to at the hotel before you got me."

"Twelve," the man growled, "but I didn't remember to count them until it was too late."

"I saw your husband in the crowd today. He was so close I could have touched him."

1928 RADIO MODELS
BY WESTINGHOUSE

Have These Notable Advantages and Improvements

A. C. Batteryless Sets:
Operate on either 25 or 60 cycle alternating current. This is a big advantage should you move where there is different A. C. supply.
Designed to use the new Westinghouse A.C. Radiotron UX-216 and UX-227 which operate on either 25 or 60 cycle "Raw" alternating current through a step-down transformer in the set. These Radiotrons avoid the hum and "A.C." noise which have been the chief disadvantage of many types of A.C. Batteryless sets in the past. The UX-171 Power Tube is employed for loud speaker operation.
Both Batteryless and Battery types are made in Five and Six Tube Models. Portable models employ beautifully designed rugged and sturdy cabinets, with carrying handles and automatic of the set. These sets are absolutely non-radiating and cannot interfere with the neighbor's reception.
Single control station delivery of the direct type are used in all models for best operation and tuning. The Oval Grid Radiotron, latest type, is built in all all-metal models. The Westinghouse microphone receiver with crystal, vacuum volume control, with push, compression, limiting, expansion, and all other of the most modern features, including a built-in amplifier in the set.
Prices of the "A.C." Batteryless sets from $225.00 to $285.00 complete.

Battery Operated Sets:
Designed to operate with "A" Antenna and "B" Eliminator Units or batteries, without requiring special neutralization.
Designed to use the new Westinghouse Radiotron UX-201-B replacing half the "A" Radiotron UX-201-A which has been universally accepted by radio manufacturers in the past. Owners of previous Westinghouse models can use this improved tube by having their Westinghouse Dealer attend to the re-neutralization and installation of correct resistances at a cost of $3.25 up, plus express charges.
Push Buttons and Battery types are made in Five and Six Tube Models. Portable models employ beautifully designed rugged and sturdy cabinets, with carrying handles and automatic of the set. These sets are absolutely non-radiating and cannot interfere with the neighbor's reception.

EIGHT PROVINCES REQUEST RENEWAL FEDERAL GRANT

Premiers and other officials from eight of the provinces of Canada during a conference with the Dominion Government at Ottawa on November 10th, rescinded a strong appeal for a renewal of the federal grant for highways, urging that another substantial vote be appropriated for building trunk roads in the provinces along the line of assistance first inaugurated in 1919.

Quebec alone did not favor this form of federal aid, according to reports of the conference, on the ground that the system of road construction followed in that province provided for the work on a fifty-fifty basis with municipalities, the government's share of the cost being taken care of by proceeds of the automobile license and the gasoline tax.

Including Alberta, the other provinces were generally agreed that help for the building of main trunk highways across Canada should be forthcoming from the national treasury.
Premier J. E. Brownie advocated the claim of Alberta in this connection, this province being the last to qualify and make use of the grant authorized by parliament in 1919.

Press reports indicate that with the exception of Quebec it was unanimously agreed that with the phenomenal increase of motor traffic in the country, the construction of standard highways had become more and more a national undertaking, benefitting the Dominion as a whole as well as the provinces with the creation of a new system of trade and commerce.

Main highway construction to keep pace with the demand of tourists and general commercial traffic was becoming too great a burden for the provinces to maintain alone, it was pointed out, particularly those transportation arteries which were directly saving money for the national treasury
by reason of their taking the place of branch railway lines. During the discussion reference was made to the fact that more than $150,000,000 was spent in Canada annually by visiting tourists, this huge sum mainly being fitting the Dominion treasury.

The stand of the provincial premiers
at Ottawa on federal lines supports the action taken by the Alberta Motor Association at the annual meeting last spring when it was unanimously resolved that the Dominion Government should be urged to reestablish the federal highway grant, with an apportionment of at least $60,000,000 for the purpose, this to be distributed on a used mileage basis in the various provinces, instead of on a per capita basis as in the case of the 1919 sub-vention. Since that convention the contention of the A.M.A. has been broadened in other parts of the country and widespread support aroused in the campaign for federal aid.

With the formal application of provincial premiers at Ottawa for further national assistance in road building, it is felt in A.M.A. circles that the next session of parliament will see some definite step taken by the Dominion government to help along in a financial way the extension of first class traffic highways across Canada.

Federal assistance would be quite in order if the Alberta Government would amend their regulations and use this money not only to build the highways in rural sections, but also share it with the town highways. The federal government should not tax the towns and not also insist upon the money being expended within the towns so rapid.

of the Toronto Star, but it favors the adoption of the policy. "Ontario," it says, "is a prosperous community, its finances are in good shape. The money paid out in pensions would result in numerous economies and not be altogether lost. And our aged and indigent people, many of whom are dependent or in want because in the days of their strength they bore their burdens well, should have provision made for them by the state. No time should be wasted in putting the system
into effect."

EVERYBODY IS SILENT ABOUT THE NAVY

"For some strange reason," says the Ottawa Citizen, "the question of Canada's naval policy was not mentioned at the Winnipeg Conservative convention. Lacking any other explanation it may be assumed that the leaders of the party considered that their old naval policy contained too much dynamite to be put into a platform upon which the party intends to ride into power. Consequently for lack of action the Conservative naval policy is no different from the Liberal naval policy."

Luxuries Once But Necessities Now

PRACTICALLY any Canadian citizen may own today an automobile possessing elements of beauty, style, comfort and efficiency which no amount of wealth could have commanded a dozen years ago.

For the automobile industry has outgrown its original function as a supplier of transportation, and has in an amazingly short time, brought about the refinements which are exemplified in the present-day General Motors car.

Since its foundations first were laid sixty years ago, this institution has believed that every Canadian has a right to the best his country produces, has a right to satisfy his sense of beauty, his desire for comfort, his need for dependability.

General Motors has at its command the master minds of the industry. It has the finest automotive research laboratories and the greatest automobile proving grounds in the world, wherein have been pioneered and developed some of the industry's most revolutionary advances.

And General Motors has used its prosperity and success unflinchingly in improving the quality and increasing the value of its products.

It is thus that General Motors of Canada has played its part in a lasting and incontestable luxury into terms of every-day necessity.
